

JAYSON JAMORA

FREELANCE WEB DEVELOPER

I'm Web Developer who thrives on finding clarity in chaos. My background in high-pressure kitchens and technical support taught me to be the calm, steady hand that can listen past the panic to solve the underlying problem. I now channel this strategic mindset into software development, building interactive and intelligent web applications. My modern workflow involves architecting the core logic using technologies like React and Tailwind CSS, leveraging a modern, agent-assisted workflow. This allows me to focus on architecting robust, scalable solutions faster, delivering high-quality projects with maximum efficiency. This allows me to focus on what truly matters: creating seamless, intuitive, and dependable solutions to real-world challenges. You can view my work and projects on myPortfolio.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Freelance WEB Developer

January 2025 - Present

- Co-Engineered the core analysis engine for a full-stack code comprehension tool using serverless functions; designed a multi-layered prompt architecture for the Generative API that utilized responseSchema to enforce structured JSON output and processed the model's "thought stream" for real-time UI updates.
- Integrated the Wise payment gateway into custom web applications built with Ruby on Rails to provide clients with secure payment systems.

Starlite IT Solution | Owner

Apr 2023 - Jul 2024

- Managed all aspects of the sales of computer parts and accessories, ensuring product compatibility and providing technical guidance to drive customer satisfaction and repeat business.
- Provided expert technical support for a wide range of hardware and software issues, effectively troubleshooting and resolving customer problems with clear communication.

Lenin Computer Inc. Technical and Customer Support Specialist

April 2021 - Feb 2023

- Specialized in the end-to-end process of custom PC building, from initial component selection and assembly to OS installation and performance tuning.
- Enhanced customer satisfaction by providing personalized consultations, such as re-allocating a client's budget from aesthetic components to a superior GPU to meet their specific gaming performance goals.

PARESILOG | Line Cook

Feb 2018 - March 2021

- Thrived in a high-volume, fast-paced kitchen, consistently executing precise food preparation to meet tight service deadlines and maintain quality during peak hours.
- Independently managed the entire food line during staff shortages (Pandemic), ensuring uninterrupted service and high standards while single-handedly meeting the full volume of customer orders.
